

The Tonopah Registration Shows Gains

With a total of 1696 names on the Tonopah registry books, registration came to an end at 6 o'clock Friday evening. It is figured by political "dope book" keepers that of this registration there will be 1400 votes cast at the fall elections. A comparison of the present registration figures with those of two years ago will be of interest.

In 1906 the Tonopah registration was 1832—which would on the surface indicate that the population of Tonopah is falling off. But of this registration only 1181 votes were cast. It must be remembered that in the fall of 1906 there were many booms on in southern Nevada. The Walker Lake boom set in just before election, and at that time Manhattan was in its second great glory. Tonopah had a large population, many people coming here, registering, and working here until opportunity came to go to one of the new camps. The excess population was floating, not steady. But the present registration of Tonopah shows a true population. There is no boom or floating population. All these voters are here to stay, and the '08 figures really show a gratifying gain.

Reports from Manhattan give the registration at 368, and this, compared with the 395 votes cast there in 1906, shows a slight falling off.

Rhyolite also shows a slight loss, with a present registration of 416 and 419 votes cast at the election of 1906.

Beatty shows a gain, with a present registration of 152 as against a vote of 106 in 1906.

The registration returns from Round Mountain are not in, but it is stated that the registration there will show a gain of 250 votes over the registration of 1906.

Claims Richest Strike in State

By special permission of John B. Newman, president of the Wihua Gold Mines company, we had the privilege of visiting what we believe to be the greatest strike in Nevada, says the editor of the Seven Troughs District News.

We were taken by way of the cork-screw shaft to the 265-foot level at which station is being loaded daily, ore whose value would hardly be believed if mentioned in these columns. From this point we walked west for a distance of about 100 feet where we beheld such a vision as must be seen to be believed. Hitherto we have studiously avoided such expressions as "veritable jewel boxes," "treasure vaults," and the like, but after our experience this afternoon we confess that our vocabulary is too limited to express the sight which met our view. There seemed to be gold everywhere. A candle held to the vein at almost any point revealed whole masses of the precious metal. A two-inch streak runs $125,000 to the ton.

The company took over the Stoker lease in January. Continuing the shaft already sunk, to a depth of 375 feet the management encountered water that necessitated pumps or development farther up. The latter course was chosen and a drift was started at the 265-foot level. At ninety-seven feet the ledge was discovered. Here the company began stoping. One shipment of ore that ran better than $165 per ton was then out and then drifting was continued. Water was again struck and further work in that direction had to cease. A forty-horse power engine, Cameron pump and five-drill air compressor were ordered and in the meantime stoping was again begun.

It was at this point that the strike was made. The vein is fully four feet wide and in it the values range from $50 per ton up to $125,000. The general average, leaving out of account the rich streak, is $200 per ton.

The ore shoot is from eighteen inches to two and one-half feet wide with a stringer about two inches wide that carries fabulous value. One specimen that weighed fifteen pounds and that is almost solid gold is now on exhibition at the Hotel Maxuma. Ten sacks of this phenomenal ore have been taken out. Today sacking was stopped in order to timber. The company has its ore bins full of ore that will go better than $200 and is only awaiting the use of the Kindergarten mill to begin a run.

The machinery ordered is now due at the railroad and with it operating work on the shaft will be resumed. The shaft will be continued to 600 feet before drifts are again run. The vein will be followed throughout the entire distance as it has been so far.

EASTERN CAPITALISTS COMING.
Charles Hayden of Hayden, Stone and company, the New York and Boston brokers and financial agents, is on his way to Nevada accompanied by prominent eastern and English capitalists for the purpose of inspecting mining enterprises in which they are interested. Hayden, Stone and company represent some of the heaviest holdings in Consolidated and other Nevada issues.

The Tonopah Banking corporation is installing a new five-ton door for its vault—perhaps the finest and strongest vault door in the state. The door is of the double construction variety, with time locks and double combination.

WAS GOING TO ARREST RICKEY

Judge O'Brien Paving the Way for the Arrest of T. B. Rickey When Stayed by Order of the Supreme Court.

Friday morning was the time set for Thomas B. Rickey, of State Bank and Trust company notoriety, to appear in the court of Judge O'Brien to enter his plea. Rickey did not make an appearance, and as Judge O'Brien was preparing a bench warrant for the arrest of the embezzling bank president, he received a wire from the supreme court, staying all proceedings.

Rickey, it will be remembered, applied for a writ of habeas corpus at Carson City, and the arguments were completed Tuesday. The attorneys for the state were given ten days in which to file their briefs, and the attorneys for Rickey fifteen days after the filing of these briefs. According to this the matter can not be turned over to the supreme court for decision inside of twenty-five days, and in the meantime Thomas Rickey will be free from legal procedure.

Judge O'Brien stated yesterday that he was prepared to ignore the habeas corpus proceedings issued by Rickey, and was going to have him arrested on a bench warrant and proceeding with the hearing in his court. This would have "passed the buck" directly up to the supreme court of the state and forced it into some immediate expression as to the legality of the proceedings against Rickey. Judge O'Brien is of the opinion that there has been entirely too much red tape connected with the Rickey business. While his judicial position did not admit of his saying so much, it is plain that he shares the opinion of the majority of the legal fraternity that a rich criminal, by invoking all the safeguards of the law, can avoid final trial entirely too long.

ANOTHER BONANZA STRIKE REPORTED

RHYOLITE, Oct. 9.—Jack Logland, who is leasing on the National Bank, is getting some bonanza ore in the stope on the east drift. A sample assayed by N. M. Simons gave a return of $2008 to the ton in gold.

The rich streak carries a width of about six inches. While this entire width will not yield a return equal to the sample, it will give a good shipping average. Mr. Logland's returns from the ore treated at the Shoshone mill so far have been satisfactory, his first grade running in the vicinity of $200 a ton.

McVicar and Stewart, leasing on the Bullfrog Mining ground on Ladd mountain, are also getting good shipping ore, and they will send out a consignment in a short time.

FUNDS FOR PUBLIC LIBRARY.
In response to a popular subscription, the county commissioners yesterday appropriated the sum of $25 monthly, to be used for the purchasing of books for the public library.

DEMOCRATS OPEN THEIR HEADQUARTERS

QUARTERS UNDER TONOPAH CLUB THE FINEST IN THE STATE.

Nye county Democrats are going to be comfortable prior to the election, at least, and this assertion is proved by a glimpse of the headquarters which they have fitted up and which were thrown open for the first time Friday afternoon. Democratic headquarters are located in the basement of the Tonopah Club, and the spacious room has every convenience for political work. The whole room is gay with flags and bunting, and large pictures of William J. Bryan and John W. Kern, the head of the Democratic national ticket, are conspicuously displayed. Desks, tables and chairs are placed about the room, so that any kind of business can be carried on, whether it be a business caucus, letter writing, or any of the numerous kinds of jobs which turn up during a campaign.

It is said on good authority that the headquarters are the most elegant occupied for campaign purposes by any party in any other section of the state.

Tonight there will be a formal opening of the headquarters. There will be cigars a-plenty—the affair given the cognomen of a "smoker"—and of course local spell-binders will weave their spells and make the usual happy predictions as to party success—for be the Democrats nothing else, they are optimists to a man. Then there will be some music, monologue spouts and buck and wing dancing by a couple of negro artists. The affair promises to be one from which history will date.
